Aldenham School: A Foundation for Success Roger Payne

Aldenham School: A Foundation for Success was commissioned to celebrate the success of Aldenham School over more than 400 years. This book charts the history of the School from Richard Platt's original foundation, showing how it has evolved through periods of both continuity and change. As well as highlighting significant events such as the Quatercentenary celebrations and the 1998 visit of HRH The Princess Royal, it profiles important people in the context of the School's historical strengths and enduring traditions. Drawing throughout on the reminiscences of past and present members of the School, the book offers a true and vibrant portrait of Aldenham, along with an inspiring vision for its future.
